We Are the Disclosure - Part I: 700 Years of Research on ET-Human Interaction By Miguel Mendonca

Since the late 1940s, a growing number of individuals and groups have sought public disclosure of what the authorities know about interaction between humans and non-human intelligences. But for 70 years the authorities have employed a policy of secrecy, denial and ridicule to keep the subject covert. Thus the responsibility of reporting and analyzing these contact phenomena has fallen to those called in various ways to participate. We Are the Disclosure is an embodiment of the bottom-up Disclosure process that has been underway for seven decades. Through in-depth interviews, it provides a people's history of the development of the field since the early days, and brings it up to date. Leading researchers in the field are joined by archeologists, radio hosts, a remote viewer, those engaging in direct ET contact, and several ET-human hybrids. This broad-ranging survey of the growth of this field, and our awareness of its meaning, is discussed in Part I of We Are the Disclosure by Alexis Brooks, Lyn Buchanan, Michael Cremona, Klaus Dona, Stanton Friedman, Robert Fullington, Marilyn Gewacke, Rey Hernandez, Gary Heseltine, C. B. Scott Jones, Jujuloi Kuita, Barbara Lamb, Vanessa Lamorte and Joanne Summerscales. This book provides strong evidence that Disclosure may prove to be the most important topic of our time, and that it is being driven in large part by the ETs themselves.

Editorial Review

Review

“I am in total accord with the title and message: We Are the Disclosure. This book is a wonderful, in-depth compilation of personal motivation and passion for the truth, which comes through each page. I believe anyone drawn to this phenomenon will be intrigued and fascinated by the personal stories and motivations behind the faces, as they share what they really think and what they really feel about this compelling phenomenon. We discover what lies beneath their drive to find the truth! Whether they are a researcher, therapist, journalist or experiencer, this book offers compelling insights as they share personal perspectives. The insightful questions are answered with courageous honesty as they share their unique personal journeys. If you want to know the story behind the story, this is the book for you.”

“In the very near future when the entire planet becomes aware of the truth of extraterrestrial visitation on Earth, Miguel Mendonça’s twin volumes of We Are the Disclosure will attain ever greater value. Today, the subject of non-human activity is simply the topic of speculation. But once this becomes part of our reality, Mendonça’s in-depth interviews with those close to the subject will be regarded as a comprehensive history of the process of public disclosure.”

New York Times bestselling author of Alien Agenda

“In We Are the Disclosure, Miguel Mendonça grips the covert, complex and yes, stigmatized subject of extraterrestrial contact. Through simple, direct conversations he presents the personalities, discoveries, and experiences that lure the reader, one chapter after the next, into Disclosure of the ET presence. Miguel’s questions probe the deep intimacies of UFO-ET researchers’ private lives and personal work. Trust me: you will mark up the margins of this book. You will make a list of additional books to read. You will date your calendar with conferences where these researchers speak. But more importantly, you will know the ET presence in all of its intricate patterns that have marked our planet, perhaps since its inception. Miguel pushes Disclosure past political personalities and moneyed-government interests to where the discussion belongs—not in the halls of Congress or cloaked rooms of secrecy or Hollywood sound stages—but rather in the carefully tended fields of work and rooted lives of researchers and ET experiencers. Read this book. You may recognize your ET exoconscious self in its pages. And that’s the primary point of this book—your self-

Disclosure.”

“Miguel Mendonça serves well as author, investigator, interviewer and reporter of the multidimensional relationships of humanity and extraterrestrial entities. His two-volume book, We Are the Disclosure, presents the physical, biological, psycho-social, and spiritual experiences of a wide range of participants.”

“Uncovering answers in the extraterrestrial and disclosure fields is much like the old parable about the blind men and the elephant. In this case, humanity has been blind for millennia and is only now beginning to open its eyes. There are many researchers attempting to understand this elusive phenomenon from many angles, trying to make a map that gives shape and definition to what once was a confusing and seemingly unconnected collection of data and firsthand accounts. Books such as We Are the Disclosure help define an important map in this field by providing the research from many different angles. The book gives depth and dimension to the map, and provides a multitude of perspectives sourced from the life’s work of dedicated researchers. One person doesn’t have all the answers. As the pieces of the puzzle begin to be assembled through the work of these many researchers, the map takes shape. As it does, the phenomenon will define itself, likely leading to the most obvious of conclusions. This process, an organic disclosure of sorts, has already begun.”

“We Are the Disclosure by exopolitical researcher Miguel Mendonça, is a fitting follow-up to his book Meet the Hybrids. In Hybrids, we met the lives and missions of ET ambassadors on Earth, here for Density Ascension.

In Disclosure, Mendonça asks leading exopoliticians, ufologists, whistleblowers and experiencers [including yours truly] a series of questions designed to elicit a collective Disclosure, thereby accelerating the Density Ascension announced in Meet the Hybrids. This is a brilliant, compact and efficient strategy for disclosure and density ascension, and I urge all awakening Souls to support Miguel’s work, devour his books, and spread the word and knowledge widely.”

Author of Exopolitics, The Omniverse, and My Journey Landing Heaven On Earth

“We are the Disclosure provides us with an assembly of commentary and opinion from various investigators and witnesses to UFO events. While I have always valued the testimony of actual witnesses to UFO incidents above that of ‘investigators’, it is valuable to have the thoughts and commentaries of all who have found themselves immersed in this field. I appreciate the technique of asking each of the respondents the same questions. This provides some insightful consensus on some of the mysteries of this phenomenon. However, as we all know, consensus does not necessarily equate to the truth of the matter. As one who has had substantial UFO experiences, studied this phenomenon for over twenty years, interviewed many witnesses, and written two books on the subject, much of it is still a mystery to me. While, in my opinion, there are no irrefutable answers in this book about the subject, the commentary of other voices has value because it adds to the body of our attempt to understand this very real phenomenon. I recommend this book.”

About the Author

Miguel Mendonça is an Anglo-Azorean author based in Bristol, England. After studying and working in forestry and horticulture, he gained an honors degree in geography and history then studied social science and environmental ethics at postgraduate level. Miguel worked in the sustainability field for six years, specializing in renewable energy policy. While serving as Research Manager for an international NGO he lectured widely and wrote textbooks, articles and papers, providing an evidence base for campaigners from NGOs, politics, finance, industry and civil society around the world to push for new or better renewable energy laws. After publishing a collection of short fiction in 2011 he began to research the ET field in depth. In 2015 he co-authored Meet the Hybrids with Barbara Lamb, a study of the lives of eight ET-human hybrids living on Earth.
