Beyond the Necessary God: Trinitarian Faith and Philosophy in the Thought of Eberhard Jüngel (AAR Reflection and Theory in the Study of Religion) By Paul DeHart

Beyond the Necessary God examines the trinitarian thought of German theologian Eberhard Jüngel. One of the most creative theologians working with the legacy of Karl Barth, Jüngel combines the critical interaction of his doctrine with metaphysical traditions, philosophical anthropology, and reflection on language. In this accessibly written book, Paul DeHart offers an elegant introduction, exposition, and interpretation of the work of a theologian who is only beginning to be translated and understood in the English-speaking world. By carefully guiding the reader through Jüngel's assessment of crucial theological questions, DeHart makes a significant scholarly contribution and fills a gap in English-language scholarship on Jüngel.

"In light of the death of the God of metaphysical theism, Eberhard Jüngel creatively develops the theological concept of God--the God who comes to human speech--in a manner conversant with modern and post-modern traditions. Useful both to the theological scholar and the advanced student, Paul DeHart's book is a careful and important exposition of Jüngel's theological contributions, with special attention given to his doctrine of God."--Paul E. Stroble
